

Equifax, a consumer credit reporting agency, has reported that some of its data has been breached. Because Equifax is used by many businesses which conduct credit checks, the potential impact is huge. Equifax is used by landlords, utility companies, potential employers as well as lenders to verify credit histories. Equifax has reported that this cyber breach has the potential to touch more than 140 million consumers. We do not know if any of our customer's data has been compromised as a result of this breach, but we want to make sure that you are aware. You can confirm whether you are at risk by going to this website, <https://www.equifaxsecurity2017.com/> and by watching for information from Equifax.